Commentary

The Fund registered a positive performance in April outperforming the benchmark by over 80bps, thanks to the strong gains registered on the equity investments, despite the prudent positioning with a net equity exposure below 40%. On the equity side, all the names within the portfolio posted a positive performance; the main positive contributors to the Fund's performance were Fiat Chrysler Automobiles, Daimler, HeidelbergCement, Esprinet and Michelin. FCA rose on the back of renewed M&A rumors in the sector and the confirmation of the FY 2019 guidance following weak Q1 2019 results. HeidelbergCement rose the company should post good Q1 2019 results with increasing revenues and earnings after a tough 2018. Esprinet rebounded from the 6-year low reached in March as the company released FY 2018 results in line with the preliminary data and gave a confident message for 2019 outlook. The fixed-income part of the portfolio registered a small positive performance mainly thanks to the gain registered on the short position on the UK Gilt future and the Safilo 2019 bond. During the month the main trades executed had been the sales of LVMH, Daimler, Nokian Renkaat, and Saes Getters, and the purchases of Esprinet and Fluidra.
