Commentary

The Fund posted a negative performance in August, posting anyway a smaller decline compared to most of the European equity indexes. The main positive contributors to the Fund performance had been Esprinet, Fila, Fluidra, Iveco and Tinexta. Esprinet rebounded benefitting from some short covering amid indications that the sector should bottom out in 2023. Fila rose as the company announced solid H1 2023 results, raised its FY 2023 free cash flow guidance and announced that its Indian subsidiary Doms Industries filed for an initial public offering on the Indian Stock Exchange. Iveco outperformed as the Italian truckmaker delivered another upgrade to its full-year guidance that prompted analysts to significantly increase their estimates. The main detractors to the Fund performance during the month had been Stellantis, Piovan, Cementir, Datalogic and Dometic. Stellantis declined following both the underperformance of the Auto&Parts sector and the difficulties of the Detroit Three in reaching a deal with the United Automobile Workers, an issue which could entail several risks for Stellantis such as a strike and increasing personnel cost in North America. Dometic declined following the general underperformance of consumer discretionary stocks, and the stock was also penalized by some negative newsflow coming from the North American boating industry, which is one of Dometic's main customers group. During the month the main trades executed had been the sale of Biesse, Pirelli and Tinexta, and the purchase of Dometic, Stellantis and Renly.
